

Reading Resilience

Standards:

This course aligns to the INTASC Standards including Learner Development, Learning Environments, Content Knowledge, Application of Content, Assessment, Planning for Instruction and Instructional Strategies.

It also aligns to all of the McRel Teacher Evaluation Standards including Teacher Leadership, Diverse Learners, Teachers Know Content, Teachers Facilitate Learning and Teachers Analyze and Reflect.

The ability to read helps children communicate, comprehend their course curricula, become independent learners, and have access to career opportunities.

Through the strategies presented, educators can teach children how to make connections between written texts and the world, overcome challenges, and master the art of reading. Teaching students this important life skill can be complex, challenging, and require educators to adopt a range of approaches and methodologies.

This course enables teachers to help all children—regardless of their learning preferences and disabilities—become independent readers. Prepare your students for success both in and beyond the classroom.
